Your Privacy

The Internet is a global environment that involves the transmission of data on an international basis. Therefore, by browsing the Site and communicating electronically with us you acknowledge and agree to our processing of any personal data in this way. We cannot accept liability if your information is unlawfully intercepted by a third party.

Use of Cookies

Home Assistance UK Limited uses cookies to improve the usage of our Site. Temporary cookies are used to pass information between Web pages during a single visit and are removed from the computer when that visit ends.

Permanent cookies contain no name or address information; a unique random number identifies visitors. The cookies are used to show the date and time of the last visit to the Site and the use of the Site. Your browser saves permanent cookies as tiny files on your system to maintain settings or data between multiple visits. These cookies are set to expire after a few months and are automatically deleted in your system at that time.

You can disable both permanent and temporary cookies. If you do disable cookies you may not be able to use all the services within the Site. You can find out more about cookies on <http://www.cookiecentral.com>.

Links to Third Party Web Sites

There may be links from this Site to third party Sites. We are not responsible for the privacy practices of our partners or other businesses. We encourage you to read their privacy statements, as they may differ from ours.
